Overview

Murrin Provincial Park, established in 1962, sits alongside Highway 99 about 2 km north of Britannia Beach and 9 km south of Squamish. Browning Lake is described by BC Parks as a very small lake with swimming, picnicking, fishing and an easy walking trail around it.

The park also has about 250 climbing routes, from novice to expert. Our notes describe a Jurassic Ridge viewpoint loop of about 2 km, which BC Parks does not mention, so treat that distance as approximate.

Safety checklist

Tell someone your plan Leave your route, group size and expected return time with someone you trust, and check in when you are back. BC AdventureSmart (adventuresmart.ca) has a free trip-plan form.

Check conditions the same day Look at the weather, road and trail conditions, closures and (in snow season) the avalanche forecast on the day you go, not last week. Use the land manager's page for this guide.

Set a turnaround time Pick a time to turn back whatever happens, start early, and carry a headlamp. Most trips go wrong in the last hours of the day.

Carry the essentials Water, food, navigation (map and offline GPS), light, first aid, extra layers, sun protection, a whistle and fire or shelter. A phone alone is not a plan.

Emergencies Call 911. Cell coverage is unreliable or absent in much of the Sea to Sky backcountry, so consider a satellite messenger and know your location.

Water and wildlife Wear a life jacket on the water: cold water can disable you in minutes. Carry bear spray where bears are present, keep food secured and give wildlife space.
